

Vacuum Test Kit

A complete system for quick and reliable vacuum testing.

Vacuum testing that saves time and money

The Subsea Company's Vacuum Test Kit is a system that includes all the equipment necessary for a subsea professional to pull a vacuum and make a record of the event. It consists of two enclosures: one contains the pump, hoses and manifold with vacuum gauge and the other contains two independent electronic chart recorders. The efficiently packaged system will provide the means for faster, better and easier vacuum testing and recording.

Key Features

- Compact portable system
- Rugged storage and shipping containers
- Simple set-up and operation
- Reliable components and accessories
- High-accuracy electronics

When submerging any enclosure subsea, removal of entrained moisture in the form of water vapor is essential for proper equipment reliability and operation. Our Vacuum Test Kit specifically allows the subsea professional to draw a vacuum on one or two pieces of equipment and then produce a chart paper record for each of the two channels.
